DEBATE MEETING HELD AT COLGATE

Nine Hill Debaters Attend State Conference on April 27-28

The New York State Debaters Conference, which held its second annual Convention Friday and Saturday, April 27-28, at Colgate University, came to a successful conclusion with the passing and forwarding of resolutions to Governor Lehman upon the subjects previously discussed. Nine of Hamilton's debaters, including Howard B. White and Walter J. Moore, '34; J. D. Matthew Ahearn, Halsey V. Barrett, John L. Brown, Edwin A. Clough, John A. Handy, Sol M. Linowitz, and James Rockwell, '35, were accompanied by Professor Calvin L. Lewis. Twenty-four other New York State colleges were represented.

A general assembly opened the Convention, with John J. Walsh, '32, and former President of the Conference, acting as temporary chairman. After President Arthur Cutten of Colgate had welcomed the delegates, Assemblyman Hamilton of Rockland County, N. Y., a great-great grandson of Alexander Hamilton, referred to the subjects under discussion, Public Utilities, Public Relief, and Tax Reform, indicating what the State Legislature had been doing with regard to these vital problems during the past year.

Friday afternoon was devoted to student committee meetings in which the Hamilton delegation's committees, headed by Brown, Linowitz, and White, presented their opinions and joined in framing majority and minority resolutions.

An informal banquet that evening featured the addresses of F. Stanley Griffin, '18, and Andy Kerr, Colgate's famous football coach. Mr. Griffin, the former Deputy Controller of New York State, took the place of Lieutenant-Governor A. William Bray who was detained in Albany by the pressure of legislative duties. An informal dance followed the banquet.

At another general meeting Saturday morning the resolutions were discussed and voted upon. It was agreed to hold another convention next year, the meeting place to be either Ithaca or Albany.

PREACHER DELIVERS INTERESTING TALK

The student body heard an interesting and practical sermon in Sunday Chapel when Rev. James Gordon Gilkey, of Springfield, Mass., described the policies and aims of Communism, Fascism, and American Capitalism, compared them, and finally, after admitting himself to be an advocate of intelligent Capitalism, expressed his opinion that the only hope for future progress in the United States lies in the hands of the socially intelligent and progressive class of college graduates.

GOLF TEAM TIES COLGATE, BEATS UNION HERE 6-0

Shows Improvement Over First Match At Syracuse

GOVERN WINS TWO

Wins All Matches; F. Govern, Edwards, Murphy, also Match Victors

After losing to Syracuse on the previous Saturday, the Hamilton golf team played a 3-3 tie with Colgate there on Wednesday, April 25, and on Saturday, April 28, chalked up a decisive 6-0 victory over a team from Union on the Tompkins course here. Each of these matches showed a great improvement over the previous ones.

In the Colgate match, Dick Govern, playing number 2 man for Hamilton, defeated Stewart of Colgate, with Dunc Edwards, as Hamilton number 1 player,, losing to Samanchick. The number 3 match, in which Fred Govern played against Zimmerman, broke even, scoring a half a point for each side, as did the best ball match when Fred Govern paired with Murphy, Hamilton number 4 man, against Zimmerman and Alton. In his individual match, Murphy lost to Alton. Edwards and Dick Govern, playing together in the second best ball match, defeated their opponents without trouble.

In the encounter with Union, the order of play was slightly different from that of the Colgate match. Dick Govern played number 1 man taking the place of Dunc Edwards, who was shifted to the number 2 position. In the number 1 match, Dick Govern turned in a card of 71, defeating Julius Hummer, Union's first man, and Captain Edwards, although not showing as good form as Govern, easily defeated Captain Joseph Horvath of Union.

Fred Govern, playing number 3 man for the Hamilton team, won his match against Christian of Union without trouble, and John Murphy, number 4 Hamilton player, completed the individual matches by defeating Langer. In the best ball matches, Dick Govern teamed with Edwards, and Fred Govern with Murphy, both pairs being far superior to their opponents.

The next match will be held on Friday, May 4, when the Buff and Blue team will be host to a team from Middlebury. With another week of outdoor practice to polish off their weak spots, the Hill linksmen should show up well.

D. T. Club Chooses Thirteen Freshmen

Thirteen of the outstanding members of the freshman class were tapped as pledges to D. T., sophomore honorary society, in the annual ceremony after Chapel last Thursday morning. The choices were as usual based on personal achievements and qualities of leadership as shown by the leading members of the class of 1937, and were made without regard to fraternity affiliations. The list of pledges follows:

John C. Baldwin, Jr., Sigma Phi; Bernhard W. Johnson, Jr., Griffith Jones, Isaac Sharpless, Alpha Delta Phi; Frank K. Bradford, Chi Upsilon; Henry C. Estabrook, Harry P. Massoth, Jr., Chi Psi; James H. Frear, Deta Upsilon; Frederick B. Griffin, Wesley VanLoan, Delta Kappa Epsilon; James A. Hands, Theta Delta Chi; Robert G. TENNIS TEAM TO OPPOSE WILLIAMS

To Meet Purple on Saturday Here; Visitors to Have Strong Team

The Hamilton College tennis team will play its third tilt of the season on Saturday, May 5, when Williams journeys here to oppose the Hill netmen. The match will be one of the three athletic contests to be staged on House Party week-end.

With the advent of favorable weather during the past week, the Buff and Blue courtmen have been able to get in some much needed outdoor practice. Lack of such practice was the major factor for the poor performances against Swarthmore and Haverford in the first two games.

Williams will send a very strong team here Saturday. The nucleus of the squad will be composed of the same outfit that trounced Hamilton, 6-1, at Williamstown last year. With three weeks of outdoor practice behind them the Massachusetts aggregation will have another distinct advantage over the Hillmen.

Hamilton's team will be composed of essentially the same squad that faced Swarthmore and Haverford. Captain Miner, Scanlan, Babcock, Rutherford, J. Smith, and Osterhout are expected to be in the starting lineup.

"Continental" to Be Issued May 5

The "Continental" is going to turn humorous in the Spring House Party number which is due on the campus Saturday night, May 5, just to prove to the visiting girls as well as their hosts that it really can be very funny when it makes up its mind to be. Editor D. G. Kennedy's desk has been heaped with manuscripts the past week and the most humorous ones have been prepared for publication.

Humorous sketches describing many unusual and sometimes very common House Party scenes are the headliners. McInerny has written one or two such sketches, and Loyd Dunning relates a conversation between a boy and girl during a Hamilton College House Party. Judson B. Hall and Walter G. Robinson each have written a sketch, the exact story of which, though dealing with a House Party, won't be known until the issue comes out.

The editor has written the only story which will appear this time, and it is heralded as a "Hamilton College Idyll". John Bates has a very humorous account of a faculty meeting in the magazine. David Cochran has written a poem, and Samuel Engs has contributed a group of poems.

The new "Continental" staff for 1934-35 will also be announced.

ROOT PRESIDING TRUSTEES HOLD SPRING MEETING

Well-Known Alumnus Acts As Chairman Of Board

DR. FITCH RESIGNS

Greek Professor Retires in Forty-fifth Year at Hamilton

With Elihu Root, '64, presiding in his usual capacity as chairman, the Trustees of the college held their annual spring meeting Saturday morning, April 28. The meeting was well-attended, the only absentees being Messrs. Benedict, Chrestensen, Ehret, Fraser, Minor, and Wills.

New appointments approved by the Trustees include that of Herbert Dean Meritt, Ph.D., as instructor in the department of English Composition, and of John Robert Mattingly, Ph.D., who will become assistant professor of Greek and Latin. Dr. Merritt, who was graduated from Hamilton as valedictorian of the class of 1925, has been the holder of many fellowships, as well as a member of several honorary societies. Dr. Mattingly, an instructor at Hamilton during Dr. Edward Fitch's year of teaching at the American School of Classical Studies, Athens, Greece, will once more take Dr. Fitch's place, as the latter is to be made an emiritus professor at the end of the present college year. Dr. Fitch, who was graduated with the class of 1886, has been professor of Greek at the College since 1889, and was Dean until 1932.

The Root Fellowship in Science, a yearly award established by Elihu Root in 1894, and consisting of a $1,000 stipend for a year's graduate study in an approved European or American University, was awarded to Harold Bengloff of Utica. The fellowship is given annually to a member of the senior class who is in good scholastic standing and who has shown an aptitiude towards research in one or more of the departments of science, and whom the faculty, by a two-thirds vote of approval, recommends to the trustees for appointment. Mr. Bengloff plans to do his graduate work at the Harvard Medical School.

Formal votes of thanks were rendered by the Trustees to Mrs. Benjamin W. Arnold of Albany, Dr. David H. Newland, '94, and to the Carnegie Corporation, for their contributions to the college during the current school year.

Mrs. Arnold, widow of a former graduate and trustee of the college, was the donor of a substantial amount of art effects, echinoderms, and malachites to the Hamilton College Museum.

Dr. Newland received a vote of thanks for his gift of 54 volumes of certain learned journals to the college library.

The Carnegie Corporation received thanks in appreciation of its donations to the department of music. These gifts include 800 phonograph records, several hundred books on music, numerous scores and manuscripts, and an expensive electric Capehart talking machine.

A committee of election Inspectors for the June elections of Alumni Trustees was drawn up and approved by the Board. The two regular inspectors include John G. Peck, '87, Southampton, and Professor H .K. Barrows, '06, New Rochelle. The Reverend Willard B. Soper, '04, Pelham Manor, and Clermont G. Tennant, '04, Cooperstown, wil act as alternates.

Prize Play to Be Given May 2

"Virgin at Large", by William T. Noon, '34, the Charlatan Prize Play for 1934 will be presented in the Hall of Commons tomorrow night, Wednesday, May 2.

The play is a farce, the scene being laid backstage on the night of one of the annual Miracle Plays.

TRACK TEAM WILL MEET UNION SAT.

To Open 1934 Season Before Party Crowd; Outlook Is Unpromising

The Hamilton track team holds its opening meet of the new season before a House Party audience this Saturday against a highly touted Union squad. With Captain Scobie, a consistent point winner, ineligible, and but five veterans of last year's championship team reporting for practice, Coach Arthur Winters predicts a gloomy day for the Hamilton team.

The powerful Garnet team, which has already defeated Swarthmore, 81-45, is composed almost entirely of tried and experienced veterans. On the other hand, Coach Winters is forced to depend for the most part upon the inexperienced sophomore members of the team, and because of bad weather conditions throughout the past two weeks, he has not had a chance to find out definitely how powerful his new tracksters are. He declares that his aim this Saturday is not only to prevent Union's romping to an overwhelming victory, but also to test his new men, and see how they bear up under the strain of competition.

Coach Winters does not plan to have the team keyed up to a high pitch for this, the hardest meet of the year, but intends, rather, to have it at its highest point for the Conference Meet which is still three weeks off. With this meet past, he says that Hamilton will have easier going for the rest of the season.

Unquestionably, the weakest department in the Hamilton squad is the pole vault. Doig and Latham, Hamilton's vautlers, are both new at the game, and as yet have not had the experience which is necessary to perfect vaulting form. Hamilton's chances in the high jump are equally slim, as the Garnet has several jumpers who reach the six-foot mark consistently.

As a result of the time trials held on Friday and Saturday, the coach has announced the probable list of entries for the Union meet. The list is as follows: 100-yard dash, Hengerer, Dube and LeFevre; 220-yard dash, Hengerer, Dube, LeFevre and Beebe; 440-yard run, Avery, Brown, Cronin and Beebe; 880-yard run, Jones, Kingsbury and Johnson; mile run, Schwarz, Christie, Powers and McKee; two-mile run, Thomas; high hurdles, Beakes, Swartout and Rathbun; low hurdles, Beakes, Swartout and Rathbun; shot put, Nesbitt, deAzevedo, O'Donoghue, Barden and Risley; discus, Nesbitt, deAzevedo, Montrose, Barden and Risley; javelin, Miller, deAzevedo and Palen; high jump, Swartout, Dunning and Robinson; pole vault, Latham and Doig; broad jump, Swartout, Jones and Case.

The College Band will play on the evening of the annual interclass song contest, the date of which has not yet been announced. All members of last year's band are urged to attend rehearsals.

OPENS SEASON IN PROMISING WINS ON ROAD

Glendening Allows 3 Hits, Beats St. Stephens 13-3

BEAT AMHERST 2-0

J. Betts, Sophomore Pitcher, Shuts Out Jeffs in First Game

In spite of dire forebodings and general lack of confidence in the team, Coach Mox Weber's baseball nine started its 1934 schedule with two bang-up victories over St. Stephens and Amherst, 13-2, and 2-0 respectively, on a road trip this week-end.

Journeying first to Annandale to meet St. Stephens, the Buff and Blue was forced to limit its opener to a five-inning contest because of inclement weather, but utilized the five frames to good advantage, turning in 13 runs and chalking up 9 hits. Glendening, first string Hamilton pitcher, showed promise throughout the entire game of developing into a dependable, first-rate twirler, performing well in the pinches and limiting the St. Stephens players to three hits.

Millham started the ball rolling for the visitors, walking to first on some bad pitches by Jastrom. Morrow advanced him one bag further on a sacrifice through the pitcher's box. With Bicknell on base through an error by Keppler, St. Stephens shortstop, Henry Harding lammed in a homer which gave the Clinton team a 3-0 lead.

With the pitching and infield departments of both teams working smoothly, neither nine was allowed a man on base in the second inning. Hamilton stepped into the third canto, however, and, taking advantage of three errors and some phenomenal hitting, succeeded in crossing home seven times before the Annandale boys could retire their opponents.

Morrow led the batters this inning, hitting a hard one straight through the third baseman, which put him on the initial sack by Woodruff's error. Bicknell's bunt yielded Morrow another sack. With Harding on first, after being walked, Sliter lined one at Mason, second baseman, whose fumble left Sliter safe on first and enabled Morrow to chalk up Hamilton's fourth run. In quick succession, Harding, Sliter, Shinn, Gummerson, White and Millham tallied, before the St. Stephens team pulled itself together to crush the Hamilton scoring spurt. Steady infield work by the Hamilton team easily stopped a third inning rally of St. Stephens.

The Amherst game was a different story. Facing a team which had already opened its season with a victory over Clark, Hamilton expected and found difficulty in downing its Lord Jeff rivals. An untested and unproven sophomore pitcher, Betts, came through and allowed his opponents only three hits, while the infield backed him well throughout the nine innings.

All scoring was done in the fifth frame. Gendenning walked to first on four bad balls thrown by Karelis and was advanced by White's hit. Betts' ilner loaded the bases for Hamilton. Coming to bat after having been struck out twice, "Mouse" Millham connected with a low one, to drive in Glendenning. Morrow's bunt scored Betts' run before the defensive work of Amherst tightened and retired the side.

Amherst made its big push in the eighth inning. With two men on bases and two men out, Betts walked Fusco, loading the bases, and making it possible for the home team, by means of a home run, to convert defeat into victory. But the Hamilton pitcher, after having run up a count of three balls and one strike on the Amherst batter, tightened his hold, to put over two strikes and pull the game out of danger.

AN APPRECIATION

It is with a deep feeling of regret that we receive the official announcement of the retirement of Prof. Edward Fitch, of the Class of 1886, after forty-five years of devoted and faithful service to Hamilton College and its ideals. The loss of "Little Greek" will leave a gap in the faculty that will not be easy to fill; the phrase, "scholar and gentlemen", is a banal one, but it has never had a more fitting significance.

For scholar and gentlemen he certainly has been, and to a remarkable degree. In the fields of higher learning he is widely known and admired as Dr. Edward Fitch, authority on the Greek language, literature, and art, but the feeling of Hamilton men toward him transcends a mere respect for praiseworthy scholastic achievements. To us, he is the beloved "Little Greek", kind, gentle, sympathetic, yet withal possessed of strong traits of character so necessary in a leader of men.

Intellectual weightiness is a thing little considered by a student in his final estimate of a professor. To sit for fifty-three minutes in a classroom and desperately try to master a cascade of facts that come tumbling into the brain is one form of learning, but its results are unsatisfactory for all concerned. Too often the scholarly element in the master disregards the human element in the student, but such was not the case with "Little Greek". The great breadth of his knowledge never interfered with his observance of that great factor in relieving the tedium of the classroom: the injection of his personality into scholastic routine. The warm bond of mutual sympathy that thus arises between professor and pupil is of immeasurable assistance in bridging the eternal gulf between them, and this, after all, is and should be one of the first principles of higher learning.

And so, we reluctantly take our leave of "Little Greek". Perhaps we are rather selfish in our unwillingness to give him up; if so, we beg his indulgence for our thoughtfulness. Certainly no one was ever more deserving of a rest from his labors, and we would be the last to begrudge him his well-earned reward. We wish him complete happiness and contentment in the many years of his life that are still before him, confident that he will be able to settle back and enjoy the satisfaction that comes only to him who has done his work faithfully and well.

A PLEA TO ALUMNI

Perhaps some of you may have noticed the gradual falling off of news in the adjoining "Alumni Notes" column. Professor Fitch has kindly consented to conduct this feature and to edit all news received for publication, but it is impossible for him to supply sufficient material himself to fill the space allotted from week to week.

The "Alumni Notes" are, after all, included in Life solely for the benefit of the alumni—they are of little or no interest to undergraduates. We realize that a good portion of the readers of this paper are alumni of the college, and we are only too willing to include news which naturally would be of more interest to them. But is alumni interest sufficient to warrant the continuance of such news in a regular column as has been the custom of Life during the past year? Evidently not; the clippings and news items which have been sent to Dr. Fitch have steadily decreased in number, until at the present time he is is forced to conduct the column with items of a more local—and hence more easily accessible—source. Such items are bound to be limited in the scope, and the only remedy to provide a more comprehensive service can be got from the alumni themselves.

So, if you have any paragraphs, clippings, any bits of news that might be of interest to other alumni readers, please send them in to Dr. Fitch. It will make a more readable column for you all, and that is what we are trying to do. Please don't allow modesty to deter you from sending in items about yourself; Dr. Fitch is the only one to know the identity of correspondents, and he promises not to disclose their names.

Alumni Notes

By Professor Edward Fitch

In recognition of a bequest of the late M. Woolsey Stryker, D.D., '72, the trustees of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Chicago have included in their program of commencement exercises the dedication of the M. Woolsey Stryker Memorial Room, on the evening of May second.

Rev. George H. Payson, D.D., '73, died April 27, at his home in New Brunswick, N. J. He was trained in theology at Union Seminary, and was a Presbyterian pastor from 1881 until 1908, when he became professor of ethics and Christian evidences in Rutgers College. During the World War he was a Y. M. C. A. secretary at Camp Raritan. Hamilton conferred on him the degree of D.D. in 1907. He was a member of Delta Upsilon and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Charles Sidney Shepard, Yale, '78, LL.B., Hamilton, '79, a former resident of New Haven, N. Y., died at his home at the Roosevelt Hotel, New York City on April 26. After practicing law for a time he succeeded to the management of the large business interests which fell to him after the death of his father in 1893. He had been a trustee of Cornell University and was a member of various educational and philonthropic societies. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Edmund J. Wager, '85, of Utica, retired from the active practice of aw April 24. The firm name of Wager, Griffith and Wager was on that date changed to Wager, Griffith and Brackett, and he continues as counsel for the firm, which was founded in 1898 as Grant and Wager. His son, D. Collis Wager, remains in active practice with offices in the Mayro Building.

New Lacrosse Squad Shows Varsity Form

Although regular practice has been going on for only a week, members of the newly organized lacrosse squad have shown marked improvement, and it is expected if this interest continues that there will be several games scheduled toward the end of the season.

The squad was organized through the combined efforts of Mr. Prettyman, who is acting as coach, and a small group of undergraduates who have been very much interested in seeing lacrosse played on the Hill. After an announcement in Chapel, about twenty-five men turned out for practice. There was a temporary delay in procuring the necessary equipment from Syracuse, but since then practice has been taking place regularly.

Mr. Prettyman has long been interested in the establishment of a lacrosse team, but up to now, the response has not been enthusiastic enough to warrant for such a project. The men who have been practicing for the last week have shown a keen interest in the game, and have made marked improvement in this sport which may replace baseball next year.

Watch out for the signs of jangled nerves

You've noticed other people's nervous habits—and wondered probably why such people didn't learn to control themselves.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to other people as those of the key juggler or coin jingler are to you?

And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

Winnie asked his Freshman Comp Class to bring in bits of poetry from the more renowned poets. Freshman Adamson, a bit sluggish from pre-House Party wearying, borrowed a scrap of Jameson's poetry and dubbed the poet R. Trask.

R. Trask has taken his place alongside Milton, Wordsworth, Keats and Shelley in the Pooh's appraisal, and while Jameson wonders whether he ought to quit school, Adamson is wondering about English Comp 1-2.

The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves

They Taste Better!

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

WHEREVER the finest tobaccos grow—in our own Southland, in Turkey, in Greece—all over the world, we gather the very Cream of the tobacco Crops for Lucky Strike. And that means only the clean center leaves. The center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better and farmers are paid higher prices for them. These clean center leaves are the only ones used in making Luckies. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm, free from loose ends—that's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Naturally, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder . . . the cigarette that tastes better.
